Professional Experience

Vonnda - March 2016 - Present
Front-End Developer/Designer

My time at Vonnda has been full of growth in both design and development largely due to the exposure working with an agency and interacting with a wide range of clients provides. The ability to be adaptable and iterate quickly, while maintaining a quality service in both design and development is a skill I am grateful to be bringing into future opportunities.

Vonnda highlights:
Iterating and updating Vonnda's branding
Owning a complete website redesign and Wordpress development project
Build projects for new features, landing page layouts, mocks and responsive overhauls
Prototyping designs and working code for perspective clients
Maintenance of patches, bug fixes and small UX design tweaks for various retainer clients

500friends - March 2015 - March 2016
Designer

At 500friends, I took the lead on a complete marketing website redesign, product design and branding update. I created a robust living style guide that is still used by the product and marketing team to keep to brand guidelines -a pain point experienced by the company for some time. I also heavily contributed to miscellaneous print design, whitepapers, icons and strategy deck design.

Lindsay Grizzard Art & Design - 2013 - March 2015
Freelance Designer

During university, I ran a small freelance business to improve and stretch my design skills outside the scheduled curriculum. I worked for a wide range of companies on design projects as various as magazine layouts, infographics for ecommerce tech companies, art gallery brochures and UX/Product design.

Client list highlights: First Street Art Gallery, The Emerald Magazine, Kay & Associates NASA Division, Wiser and more.
